This statement is consistent with Article S54(1) of the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015.

Our Company and its Operations

The Underground Garage is a Body and Paint Shop located in Aberdeen. Our goal is to provide our customers with the best possible car repair services.

Our mission

We are committed to preventing slavery, enslavement, forced and compulsory labour, abuse of power over the weaker, human trafficking and any other form of exploitation as defined in the UK's Modern Slavery Act of 2015. Our organisation is committed to providing a supportive environment for operations and development.

Whom do we work with?

We work with UK insurance companies that are recognised and authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority. We also use telephone and ICT services. Our business does not include the production, manufacture or sale of tangible goods, so we do not co-operate with organisations that carry out such activities.

Policy to Prevent Slavery and Trafficking in Human Beings

We believe in the principle of intolerance towards all forms of modern slavery. We conduct our business relationships with integrity and integrity by implementing and enforcing procedures to prevent us from doing business with an organisation that is exposed to slavery or human trafficking.

Assess the risk of modern-day slavery in our supply chain and take preventive action.

We have focused our efforts on the prevention of modern slavery and conducted a risk assessment to identify potential sources of contemporary slavery and human trafficking. Our employees work in a building leased from Aberdeen City Council. We operate under clear rules of employment and employee engagement.

We understand that emerging markets are a high-risk group of countries for modern slavery and human trafficking. We do not operate outside the UK but have taken appropriate steps to prevent suppliers from being exposed to such risks.

Next steps

We train our employees to ensure that they understand potential risks and adhere to the rules.
